In this summer issue of our newsletter from the Hatch Library to the Bay Path community, we highlight some new audio books on CD for your vacation and travel reading. We’re still open 7 days a week through the summer, and you can continue to visit us online 24/7.

Although the Traditional students have left campus and even the One Day students are beginning their summer break, many graduate students, including those in our new Physician Assistant program, are continuing their studies through the summer months, so we also touch on some reference and electronic information resources of particular interest to you.

My staff and I hope you all get a chance for some rest and relaxation this summer, and, as always, we welcome your feedback, questions, and comments.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

As your Reference and Instruction Services librarian, my priority is to help you find your way to the most useful information possible for your studies. To that end, and with a special welcome to our newest students in the Physician Assistant program, please take a look at the electronic versions of psychiatry reference books available through the Hatch Virtual Library. From the Hatch home page, open the drop down menu under the term “Find Scholarly Articles” and choose “Databases by Title.” Scroll down and choose “Psychiatry Online.”

You’ll find a wealth of wonderful reference sources here, including the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual IV-TR and the Manual of Clinical Psychopharmacology. A quick way to open these is from the toolbar located right beneath the ad at the top of the page. Hover over “DSM Library” to get to the DSM-IV-TR and related resources; hover over “Books” for a list of many more.

For all of you who join us in support of printed material, and for those times when you just need a break from looking at a screen, we also have the DSM-IV-TR in print on our reference shelves, along with such other gems as Conn’s Current Therapy, and many more titles.
SUMMER READING IN YOUR CAR!

Home, by Toni Morrison
Frank Money is an angry, broken veteran of the Korean War, who, after traumatic experiences on the front lines, finds himself back in racist America with more than just physical scars. He is shocked out of his crippling apathy by the need to rescue his medically abused younger sister and take her back to the small Georgia town they come from that he’s hated all his life. As Frank revisits his memories from childhood and the war that have left him questioning his sense of self, he discovers a profound courage he had thought he could never possess again.

Porch Lights, by Dorothea Benton Frank
When Jimmy McMullen, a fireman with the NYFD, is killed in the line of duty, his wife Jackie and ten-year-old son Charlie are devastated. Charlie idolized his dad, and now the outgoing, curious boy has become quiet and reserved. Trusting in the healing power of family, Jackie decides to return to her childhood home on Sullivan’s Island. Awaiting them is Annie Britt, the family matriarch who has kept the porch lights on to welcome them home. Thrilled to have her family back again, Annie promises to make their visit perfect—even though relations between mother and daughter have never been smooth.

A Walk for Sunshine, by Jeff Alt
Jeff Alt takes you along every step of his adventurous 2,160-mile Appalachian Trail hike, featuring bears, bugs, blisters, captivating characters, skunk bedmates, and hilarious food cravings. Alt walked more than five million steps in tribute to his brother, who has cerebral palsy and lives in a home called Sunshine, inspiring an annual event that has raised more than $200,000 for Sunshine. It includes hiking tips for the whole family. His lessons from the trail celebrate family, stewardship of the earth, good health, and the American spirit.

A Dog’s Journey, by W. Bruce Cameron
Buddy is a good dog. After searching for his purpose through several eventful lives, Buddy is sure he has now found and fulfilled it. Yet as he watches curious baby Clarity get into dangerous mischief, he is certain that this little girl is in need of a dog of her own. When Buddy is reborn, he’s overjoyed when he is adopted by Clarity, now a vibrant but troubled teenager. When they are suddenly separated, Buddy despairs. Their lives will soon intertwine again, and Buddy will stop at nothing to get to Clarity’s side, supporting her when she needs it most and sharing her darkest moments and greatest joys. Sequel to A Dog’s Purpose.
Our Newest Electronic Acquisitions

We purchased access to several research databases this past year to support our newest programs, the Masters of Science In Physician Assistant Studies and the Online Degree Completion Program for Women.

These resources will benefit students in other areas of study as well.

Access Medicine
Cochrane Collection Plus
Dynamed
Gale Business Insights: Global
Medical E-book Collection
Medline Complete

In addition, we purchased perpetual access to several hundred program-specific electronic books from ebrary.

Visit the links provided to learn more about these valuable resources.

UPDATE: Catalog Migration Project

We continue to work on transitioning to our new, cloud-based, integrated library system. Most importantly for you is the gateway to our resources: Our catalog. The bulk of our print materials are searchable in the catalog, as well as materials from libraries worldwide. We’re working hard on getting our electronic resources loaded completely and easily searchable. We appreciate your patience as we continue this process.

We did make a few tweaks to our catalog search box. You can now access the course reserves page from our home page, as well as linking to our searchable A to Z list of electronic journals and books.
Late Summer Hours
(July 8 - August 26)
M & W  9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
T & Th  9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Fri 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Sat 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
Sun 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Check online for our complete schedule:
http://library.baypath.edu/libinfo.html

Our Contact Information
Bay Path College
Hatch Library
539 Longmeadow St.
Longmeadow, MA 01106
Phone: (413) 565-1376
Fax: (413) 567-8345
E-mail: library@baypath.edu
On the web at:
http://library.baypath.edu